

PPP Loan Application Deadline Extended by Five Weeks

Dear Valued Client,

On Saturday, July 4, President Trump signed into law an extension of the SBA's Paycheck Protection Program until August 8. The program, originally created by the CARES Act, had ended on June 30, but approximately $130 billion is still available for qualified employers to borrow.

This extension provides a second chance for qualified small businesses who have not yet applied for a forgivable loan to submit their applications and potentially receive assistance with financial difficulties due to COVID-19.
